redo, renew, REINVENT

For a normal high school student, going back to school for a new year usually means new classes and new teachers. For Warren Central students, returning to school meant all that and more. It was a year of change for Warren to say the least.

Every student, teacher, and administrator had to learn to embrace our new technology that was part of a $28 million grant and stay patient while everyone adjusted to the newly-designed classrooms and futuristic technology. But it wasn't just the technology that changed, it was also the atmosphere at Warren. From the birth of the Spirit Club to the more lenient electronics policy, Warren Central students have embraced every change and made the most of them.

With every challenge, the staff and students worked together to solve problems and because of that, have been able to REINVENT Warren Central and the future of their education.

LEADERSHIP

THE FRESHMAN/SOPHOMORE AND JUNIOR/SENIOR RETREATS

No one in the audience let out a squeal that would have betrayed the trick as speaker Ted Weise dropped three "Honduras newts" into three blindfolded volunteers' hands. Except for a sideways snicker here and a whisper there, volunteer Imani Woodson didn't know what to expect. But she did know she wasn't going to eat it, she said.

She held the wet, slimy thing in her hand, while beside her senior Jatana Ketterman scarfed it down in one bite. Cringing, Woodson bit into the newt. It slipped between her teeth, she said. She dropped it, freaking out.

With neon duct-taped goggles covering her black blindfold, Woodson couldn't see the smirking faces in the audience or hear muffled giggles. Or even the mutilated "newt," which was really a gummy worm, on the ground.

It was all for a small orange key chain.

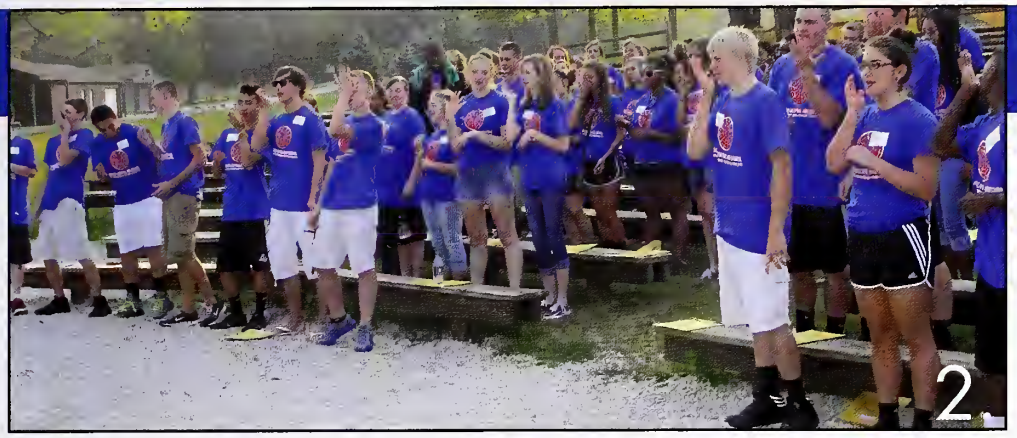
Sponsored by Student Council, the senior/junior and sophomore/freshman leadership retreats were ways to motivate students to become better leaders and to boost their own confidence. Nominated students were able to skip a day of school to participate in activities led by Weise and the Student Council officers.

"I just thought I was going to do some demonstration, and he was going to give me one of those orange keys," Woodson said. Students who attended the September leadership retreats know about the orange keys. These plastic key chains were the reason students volunteered to eat "Honduras newts" and win games. They were the motivation for students to participate during the freezing morning and scorching afternoon at Camp Belzer.

Every year Weise speaks, he gives different colored keys with "I feel GREAT" labeled on them.

Since keys must be carried at all times, these key chains serve as reminders to that Tuesday morning when students took over Camp Belzer in matching T-shirts.

"It's just a reminder to always feel great about yourself, feel great about being a leader and about all the stuff you're doing and how much work to feel good," senior Tony Weatherington said.



1. STUDENTS AT THE junior/senior Leadership Retreat act as a lawn mower. The activity was to act out some machine, and it taught students that everyone can work together to achieve one goal.

2. STUDENTS AT THE freshman/sophomore Leadership Retreat play "Brown Squirrel," led by Adeline Runkel. "Brown Squirrel" was one of many spirit chants led to motivate students for the day.

3. SENIOR JATANA KETTERMAN gets her blindfold taken off after an activity with fake newts. Wiese made this activity to show students to not let fear get in their way to becoming a leader.

4. JUNIOR KATELYN WELLS participates in the spirit chant "Little Red Caboose." Spirit chants were a way for students to warm up to each other and become motivated for the day.

Warren's Got Talent

B. L. O. W.

Senior Brittany Moton was the winner for the solo dance category. She tap danced to a mix of songs from Macklemore, Ciara, KStylist, Ginuwine, Lil Chuckee, and Donnie Blow. Brittany has been tap dancing for nine years but dedicated a lot of time into this year's performance knowing it was her senior year. She wanted to show her talent because tap dancing is an act that has the potential to entertain everyone.

Hannah Bocik

Junior Hannah Bocik was the winner in the solo instrumentalist/vocal category. This was the second time Hannah performed in Warren's Got Talent, and this year she performed the song "Lovin' Me" by Jonathan McKeynolds. Hannah featured both her singing and pianist skills. She has been singing for 12 years and playing piano for 7. Hannah thought it was awesome to win but was really glad for the opportunity to perform.

Diana Hancock

Senior Diana Hancock was the winner in the new Producer's Choice category of WGT. She performed a solo contemporary dance to "The Dog Days are Over" by Florence and the Machine. Diana has been dancing for 12 years and also dances many other styles at her studio. She made most of the routine up herself over the course of about 5-6 hours and thought WGT was the perfect opportunity to show the school her passion for dance.

The Crew

Singers and dancers Lexis Watson, 12, Ashleigh Johnson, 10, Carl Harris, 11, and Daelin Whitaker, 12, were the winners for the group variety category. They sang acapella to the song "Bottom of the River" by Delta Ray and did a step. The Crew practiced about two hours after school every Monday and at their houses as well. This was the first time the group had performed together but the entire group had a serious passion for singing and entertaining. They were also members of Connection and only got closer after their performance.

Jackson Sisters

Senior Oschtisha Jackson and younger sister Joye Jackson, 11, were the winners in the group vocal category. They performed the song "Stay" by Rhianna featuring Mikky Ekko. The sisters were able to practice almost everyday at their house for the performance. Oschtisha had previously performed in WGT but was able to help her younger sister perform for the first time in the show. Not only are the sisters singers, but they are also on the track team.

HOMECOMING 2013

With changes ta the spirit in the Warrior Nation, Student Council created themes for every home game. The Homecaming theme was "pink aut," in suppart af the fight against breast cancer. The football team sported pink jerseys, the cheerleaders had pink pam-pams, and everyane in the Pit was cavered head ta tae in pink. As usual, Mr. Faatball and Hamecaming King and Queen were crawned at half time. New this year, the newly crawned King and Queen rade araund the track in a black canvertible. The Warriars hosted the Pike Red Devils for the football game. It was the first match up between the twa teams since Pike jained the MIC. Warren Central jumped out to an early 28-0 lead, but Pike rallied to score 38 unanswered to steal a win on the Warriar's home turf.

REINVENTED ROOMS

The biggest change to the new classrooms were the floor to ceiling dry erase boards. The teachers quickly dropped the chalk and replaced it for dry erase markers. The bigger boards allowed for more space to write lessons and objectives and served as a screen for the new projectors with new SMART touch board technology.

Students this year were each given a Google Chromebook. These tablet-like laptops became an essential part to teacher's curriculum as they were challenged to use less paper and utilize this amazing new technology. Those parents and students against the chromebooks were told to treat it as any other textbook and a help desk was set up in the cafeterias through the year for any students who had issues or damages to their chromebook.

> Teachers like Mrs. Baldwin have definitely simplified assignments by using less paper and made it more interactive for students to learn.

The new projectors were a challenge for teachers and students alike to get accustomed to. They worked alongside the monitors attached to the wall to display Internet sites, power points, movies, and actual lessons themselves. Teachers had the ability to travel around the class with their keyboard and mouse and still operate the screen. The new projector and monitor helped to include all students in the class and keep students interested in learning.

With all the new changes, teachers and students alike were forced to get accustomed quickly. Teachers, depending on their subject, had to move classrooms completely while others had to make minor changes such as seat arrangements. Subjects such as mathematics, English, and foreign languages were completely moved into different hallways within the main high school.

SERVING THE COMMUNITY

Some Walker Career Center classes are open for business

Students in the Cosmetology, Automotive, and Culinary programs learned the skills they needed to provide service to the community, while also preparing for life after high school.

From cutting, styling and blow-drying, students acquired all the necessary skills to become a cosmetologist. Students in the program learned how to color, style, cut and wash hair, how to give facials, chemical texturizers, manicures, pedicures and estheticism all in a professional setting.

Service was open to the public and by the end of the year, both juniors and seniors worked in the salon.

Getting into the Cosmetology program required good attendance, discipline and grades. Students had to go through an interview process and take an exam. The top students get into the program and only a total of 30, sometimes 32 students were allowed in the program.

With the Cosmetology certification, students can get a job right after graduating high school and if pursuing Cosmetology as a career was not in the plan, students can always use their Cosmetology skills as a back up plan.

"I feel like it's a wonderful opportunity for those students who are artistic and allows them opportunities for a career ahead of time," Ms. Elsie Butler said. "They can go to work right away with their certification and go into the different fields of cosmetology."

Taking a different direction, students in Automotive Services Technology learned how to do anything a mechanic in another shop would do. Having these skills prepared them for a future career with cars, or simply taught them how to fix their own car to save money from a mechanic.

The culinary program was another program that prepared students for a career after high school. The Threshold, a full-service restaurant, was open to the public and taught students how to prepare and serve food, restaurant management, culinary math skills, customer service, and hospitality basics, all through the National Restaurant Association ProStart Curriculum.

"I like to be in this class for more freedom, more hands-on work, and I feel like I'm actually running a restaurant," senior Jordan Dunkerson said.

GREASE fall musical

THE CAST OF GREASE performs the song "Born to Hand Jive" during their dress rehearsal. The cast had to adjust to certain changes with the addition of their props and costumes. BOTTOM: SENIOR TONY Weatherington as Danny and sophomore Marissa Mattingly as Sandy.

Grease was the word, the word that you heard. It had groove, it had meaning and it came to Warren Central from November 14-17. "Even though I wasn't watching it, I was excited to be apart of something that so many people had seen," senior Tara Eubanks said. "Getting to see the audience reaction to the changes and how we brought these well known characters to life was exciting to me."

Grease first originated from a 1971 musical production about two lovers who develop a summer romance and end up together again at the same high school in the 1950's. The play ended up being the number one grossing musical in the United States.

The movie, first aired in 1978, was a successful hit. Opening weekend, the movie made 8 million dollars in the United States alone.

Grease has always been an American favorite and has not lost its touch through the generations. The 1950's came back as the Warren Central Drama department performed Grease, the musical with surprising changes very different from the movie.

Unlike the movie, where the characters are high school students at Rydell High School, the musical started out as a class of 1959 reunion, and then flashed back through the plot of the story. Many of the songs were different from the movie, along with some of the characters names. In the grease lightning scene, Kenickie was the main focus, not Danny. One of the biggest changes from the play was that they did not perform the ending song in the movie, "You're the One that I Want."

Although many of those changes may have surprised people, senior Kristen Gibbs, who played Frenchy in the musical, thought change was a good thing.

"Considering that the play was made first, I felt as though it was how the musical should be performed," Gibbs said. "Although there are songs that I preferred from the movie, I still loved it just the same. The changes helped give the storyline more character and more life."

Senior Tony Weatherington and sophomore Marissa Mattingly played the famous Danny and Sandy in the musical and were the leads in this year's show.

"Practice was fun with high energy but it was a lot of work and dedication and having an open mind," Mattingly said. "Grease is one of my favorite movies and I felt so honored to be able to perform in it!"

"If you think about it we were high school students "acting" like high school students, it doesn't get any better than that, " Weatherington said. "Performing in Grease meant so much to me. I was most excited to see the audience react to the changes from the well known movie and getting such positive feedback made the entire experience all that much better!"

"Acting is what truly brought me out of my shell and allowed me to grow to my full potential as a person.

Q: What role did you play in Grease?
A: I played Patty Simcax wha is the head cheerleader and vice president af the student councll.

Q: How did it feel to finish your senior year in the Drama Department performing in Grease?
A: It was such a bittersweet mament. I have been involved in the Drama Department here since I was a freshman and I have loved every minute af it! All I ever wanted to do was perform on the PAC stage and I am thankful far all the apportunities I have had.

Q: What was the biggest obstacle you faced while preparing for Grease?
A: It was hard trying ta stay facused on my schaalwark and paying attention in class. The show was just so exciting and I had developed sa many new friendships with everyane in the cast. All I wanted ta da was be with them and spend all my time warking an the shaw.

Q: What was your favorite part about the musical?
A: It was definitely the costumes! I fell in lave with them as saan as I saw them. When costumes are added ta the praductian, it just makes everything came ta life including the characters.

A MARCH IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

"When One Door Closes, Another Door Opens"

Why do I do this to myself? I mean, l come to practice on time every day, stand in this smoldering heat, and what do I get? A "great job"! A "that was great, so let's do it 50 more times!"

Sometimes I wonder what type of joy my directors get out of bossing us around, screaming from a microphone, watching our skin turn red, and our thighs rub together. These directors have no idea what we put on the line every single day out here on this dreadful parking lot. Don't even get me started on the days that we have heat advisories.

After you've experienced the life of a marcher for more than half of your summer, then maybe the fact whether or not marching band is or isn't a sport is not up for discussion. Hauling your belongings to rehearsal isn't even the worst part. Going back to school and rocking the hideous band tans is by far the worst. l remember my freshman year I.D. photo having two sunglasses marks on my eyes and multiple sports bra lines–not exactly the pictures you want to send to Grandma and Grandpa, right? I guess you could say marching band is a legal form a torture; almost like an evil practice for band directors.

Although I could go on and on about all of the negatives within the marching band, I surprisingly have a few great things that we've accomplished over the years, and this year alone that I'd like to highlight. I mean we did make history!

This year our show was titled, "When One Door Closes, Another Door Opens." This theme was based off music that literally fell into our hands.

While cleaning out the music library one day, one of our previous drum majors came across a peculiar music score. Later our band director, John Hilmer, realized that this was an original score titled "Legacy" written by the composer Elliot del Borgo.

Hilmer loved the piece and wanted the copyrights to rewrite it for the marching band. He finally got in contact with del Borgo himself, and he handed over the copyrights and wished us well.

The interestingly part of this storyline is that del Borgo died the next week. The title of the piece, "Legacy," made the potential marching show mean more to the band than it did to even come across this fortunate piece. This show had then become our legacy.

"We couldn't have asked for a better blessing than ' Legacy,'" Hilmer said. "I feel this because the music had become more than something to memorize and rehearse to–this music became a part of each and every one of us."

Hilmer was exactly right. I had not felt as passionately about the music this year than I have since state finals in 2010. The surprising fact of the matter, however, was the effect that the music had on not just the band, but the audience as well. "Legacy" was captivating.

This season was our year. The Gold Brigade had an incredibly successful competition season, and we came out with a record-breaking finish of second place in the state for the Scholastic A Class.

"With our previous season's disappointments, I felt that we really have grown as a band," senior Hannah Bullock said. "Going to State Finals again felt so surreal. I feel that if we search for pieces as strong as ' Legacy' in the future, the band will be invincible."

One door closed when we had our non-qualifying streak to getting into state finals, however I can say that another door was opened when we made it to state finals, our first since 2010. The band still had sock tans, but those sock tans were worn with pride because we were champions!

MCJROTC

The first time Master Sergeant (Msgt) Vincent Liddle walked the halls of Warren Central, he knew this was the place for him. When he looked at all the different trophies from all kinds of sports and programs, he was reminded of the Marine Corps, where he was still on active duty at the time.

Since Liddle's first tour of the school, the four-year-old Marine Corps Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps (MCJROTC) program has been thriving. And this year, the very first freshmen who joined in 2010 graduated.

These seniors, called Leadership Education 4s (LE4s), led the program. This unique feature of the program allowed all grades - freshmen to seniors - to interact together. They helped each other. They stood by each other. They pushed each other to do their best.

Twice a week during their 50 minute class period, all cadets formed 4x4 lines in the gym - seniors in the front, freshmen in the back. Physical Training (PT) started with a circuit (push ups and jumping jacks and mountain climbers and side to side jumps and other various exercises). Next they ran. One week, the seniors led the freshmen in the Youth Physical Fitness Test, a series of pull ups, push ups, sit ups, shuttle runs and more. Any other day, the seniors ran drill classes or led color guard or tutored LE1s.

"The LE4s sometimes pushed harder than the actual instructors," Liddle said.

They remembered what it was like freshman year. Immediately standing at attention to the left of their desks during class. Shouting the pledge everyday in class. Doing exactly what they were told with 100 percent effort or risk Msgt Liddle yelling at them.

"We got serious," senior Chica Ketterman said. "They didn't have what we had. We had 100 percent discipline. There was no nice guy."

Everyday, Liddle reminded the underclassmen that the seniors were graduating. Now, with the original cadets graduating, the lower classmen must take notes because it will be them leading PT and color guard in the future.

"Everything these kids did they have to do the legwork," Liddle said. "We were there for them, but they wanted to do the leg work, and that's what fascinates me that it's all happening."

GOT BLIZZARD?

"I have always had a passion for sports. Unfortunately, I was never very athletically gifted. So I've always looked at other opportunities to get close to sports. The unique opportunity to lead ' The Pit' in its inaugural year was too good to pass up. I feel like it brought an increased sense of unity here in the Warrior Nation and pride in being a Warrior. In the end, as long as we are providing encouragement and energy to our teams as they compete on the court or field, we are doing our job."

SPIRIT IN THE WARRIOR NATION

Students bring back spirit pride

"As a player, I felt like I represented the student body, the alumni and the whole east side of Indianapolis," Jeff Massey said. "I was proud, but also felt a sense of responsibility to be a leader in the hallways, as well as on the field."

Massey was a member of both football teams that won state titles in the ' 80s and came back to be a guidance counselor at the school during the 4-peat of state championships from 2003-2006.

"School spirit was off the charts," Massey said. "We didn' t lose a game my junior or senior season. We were ranked NO. 2 in the nation. WC football was on the national map and the student body was great."

When Massey was a coach at Warren, one of the best athletes to step through the doors of the school was football player Desmond Tardy. Not only was he a football player, he was Mr. Football for the state of Indiana in 2003. He went on to play four years at Purdue University and then returned to Warren Central as a substitute teacher and wide receivers coach. Tardy is not a strange name to anyone in the Warrior Nation, and he remembers the days when school spirit was at an all time high.

"During my junior and senior seasons, spirit was at an all-time high," Tardy said. "I believe this may have been because the 12th Man knew we needed their attendance at games as well as their school spirit in order for us to play at our full potential."

School spirit is something that creates feeling inside a player. Tardy explained it as something that goes unmatched in many ways, and to see it returning is something far greater than what was ever expected.

"The 12th Man plays a bigger role than most think and now as a coach I am sure I speak for my staff and players that we appreciate everything you all do and I hope to see this spirit continue for seasons to come," Tardy said.

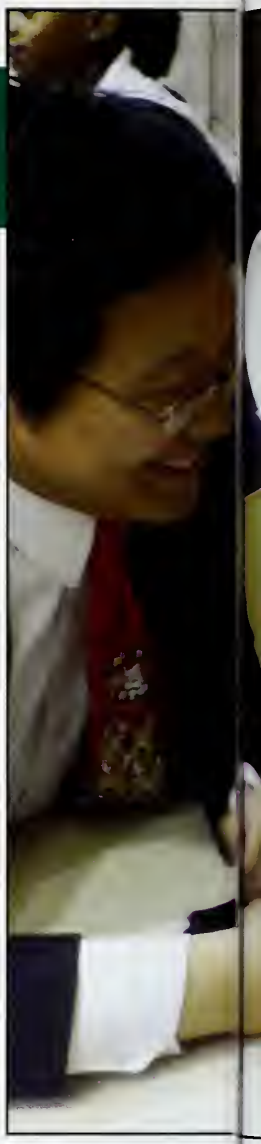
From player and coach Massey to Mr. Football Desmond Tardy, spirit is something Warren has not lacked in the past. The warrior nation cannot thrive without it and that has never been more apparent than this year.

"The school has made such a remarkable comeback," current Athletic Director Marques Clayton said. "We have one cause and that is to support each other."

No matter how much spirit the school may have lacked these last couple years, there is no question that it is back. The Pit was ready to take over. The Pit, along with its leader Rob Coram made this year one to never forget.

"The fact that the first year of ' The Pit' coincided with our first football state championship since 2009 was no accident," Coram said. "We look forward to supporting other teams to similar successes throughout the year."

GIVING BACK



"When you put the need, the spirit of giving, and wanting to work with children all in one mix, it just seems like the perfect thing to do," Student Council Adviser Beth Wolff said.

The Christmas Party had been an annual event for the last 29 years. It started because student council members wanted to figure out a way to give back. This year, clubs and classes were able to sponsor 90 children for the party.

Wolff's favorite part was seeing the reactions on the children's faces and just how thankful they were for what they received.

"Everyone has this wonderful, amazing time with people buying these incredible gifts for them and you have some kids that don't even know if they'll receive gifts," Wolff said. "Children, sometimes, they are so happy even if they get a pair of socks. They're like 'Oh, I love these socks. I really need these socks!' They are just so grateful for every little thing that they get."

Many students worked the party because they could relate to it so much. In fact many students came to Wolff, begging to work the event because they were once the recipients of these gifts and wanted to do for someone else as someone once did for them.

Many teachers like Mr. Meredith sponsored more than one child. He sponsored a total of five children this year -two boys- and three girls and raised over $1,200.

"I know my dad always talked about when he was young, he was the recipient of all this," Meredith said. "Someone sponsored his family when he was younger and so it was in him. Growing up, we had struggles and Christmas was always the time my parents made sure things went well for our family. I just love to give back when I can."

Giving back had its benefits, especially when meeting the people you help again down the road.

"There was this one year and I got this child and he had a sibling that was here at the high school and off to the side someone asked me to sponsor him too so I did and next semester he was in my class," Meredith said. "It's great knowing I'm helping those in need."

One of Meredith's students also bought the child they sponsored a turkey dinner for the family. Meredith loves when he can do bigger things like this for families so they can have a great Christmas too.

The Christmas Party was more than getting sticky fingers from the arts and crafts. It was more than the excitement of watching everyone enjoy the cheese from their pizza and Oreos. It was so much more than buying presents for the kids. The party was all about seeing the reactions of the children's faces and just how thankful they truly were for the presents they received.

This Christmas, the gift of giving was the best gift of all.

SOPHOMORE CIARRA HALE speaks at the Family Life Center at Post Road Christian Church for an anti-bullying seminar. The Take A Stand club put this seminar on to teach younger children the effects of bullying and how to prevent it together.

SOPHOMORE ERIN MONTGOMERY help the child she sponsored for the Children's Christmas Party. This year, a Warren family sponsored this child instead of the typical group, club or class, and Montgomery attended the party for them.

SENIOR KRISTEN GIBBS helps her Christmas child with the craft of the night. By the end of the craft session, students made a Christmas tree out of loops of paper.

REINVENT

FROM FRESHMEN TO SENIORS, STUDENTS COME A LONG WAY IN FOUR YEARS

No matter how much middle school students try to deny it, they were afraid to go to high school. They heard all the horror stories about freshmen being thrown into trash cans and had nightmares about getting to class on time in such a big school. So how did freshmen go from being the scared, small, fresh meat to the now confident seniors involved in everything that the school had to offer?

Throughout the four years of high school, students begin to find themselves. They join clubs, they try out for sports, they perform in concerts. They find classes that intrigue them and challenge them or realize that being a nuclear physicist is not really what they want to do.

It is a process, and every high school student has to go through it. Students often have to change, to adapt, to try new things. Students have to make the most of every opportunity and with Warren offering so much, students could do just that.

Class of 2014, how far have you come since freshman year?

MELNISHA CORNELIOUS

Q: What was the biggest obstacle you have had to overcome in high school?

A: I had to overcome time management. I had to learn how to balance my time efficiently, and, as a person, it made me more responsible.

Q: Since freshman year, how have your career choices changed?

A: During freshman year, I really wasn't sure what I wanted to do; I never even thought about it back then. All I knew was that I wanted to be in the business field, and now I am sure I want to be a CPA.

Q: Have you accomplished what you originally thought you were going to do in high school?

A: I definitely could have done better, but overall, I must say I'm more than satisfied with myself this far.

Q: What was the biggest change you went through?

A: I guess the biggest change I went through would be moving from Northwest to Warren after my freshman year.

Q: Did your expectations of high school live up to what you thought it was going to be?

A: High school was much more complicated than I expected. TV made it look so easy and the high schoolers never looked stressed or worried so I definitely didn't see all the complications coming.

senior

Q: What was the biggest obstacle you have had to overcome in high school?

A: It would have to have been finding out what I wanted to do after I graduated.

Q: Since freshman year, how have your career choices changed?

A: Freshman year I was kind of interested in engineering, and I thought that was the path I was going to take. Something about doing that for the rest of my life just didn't sit right, and I couldn't figure out what it was. My sophomore year, I became involved in music with my friend. I would engineer his vocals and do the computer work for him. I started to enjoy it more and more and realized I could go to school for it, and that's what my goal became. If anything, I wish I would have gotten started on playing music and engineering sounds earlier and progressed more and more my senior year.

Q: Have you accomplished what you originally thought you were going to do in high school?

A: I definitely accomplished what I thought I was going to. I have kept my GPA around a 3.85, and I'm in line for an Academic Honors diploma. Coming into high school, my main goal was to stay focused, stay on track and get into a school with a decent scholarship, and I have done exactly that. It's been a long four years, but I'm definitely ready to graduate.

STATE CHAMPIONS

WC, Carmel meet again for state title

The Warriors were an overall success this season with a regular season record of 6-3.

The Homecoming game in the Warrior Stadium was against the Pike Red Devils. After jumping out to an early lead, the Warriors lost 38-28.

The team then traveled to Lawrence Central. This was a big game for the team considering former head coach Steve Tutsie is now a coach for LC and current Head Coach Jayson West came from LC. The boys defeated the Bears 28-7.

The team ended their regular season against Ohio power St. Xavier. The Warriors won after scoring twice within the last two minutes of the game and getting a goal line stop leaving the final score 34-28.

"I think this win on senior night gave us a great edge going into Sectionals," senior Darius Lee said.

They then went on to face Lawrence Central in Sectionals. The defending state champion Bears fought until the end, but the Warriors came up on top after scoring twice leaving the final score 14-0. This win moved the Warriors onto the sectional championship against North Central.

At North Central, the Warriors fought to break the 7-7 tie after both teams had scored. In the fourth quarter the Warriors scored a late touchdown and went on to win the game for the Warriors 14-7. This win was for the first Sectional title since 2009.

> "I think this win on senior night gave us a great edge going into Sectionals."
> -Darius Lee

As the team continued in the tournament, the Warriors traveled to Pike to play the Red Devils for the Regional Championship.

Kicker Max Hernandez kicked a 21 yard field goal to win the regional championship with a final score of 24-21.

Once the team won Regionals, the boys knew they had their work cut out for them to avenge their season-opening loss to Center Grove. However, the Warriors played with a chip on their shoulders and prevailed 12-7 over the Trojans to advance in the tournament.

This led the team to the state title game against Hamilton County foe, the Carmel Greyhounds. After going down by two field goals, senior Darion Howard recovered a fumble on the Greyhounds 18 yard line which immediately led to a pass from Jeff George Jr. to Zach Gegner in the end zone. The Warrios won the state title 7-6 and avenged for every regular season loss in post-season play.

Girls struggle to find the way to win

The Volleyball team opened their season to their new MIC rival, the Pike Red Devils. The team took a tough loss in three opening sets. This all-familiar result happened once again until the team was 0-17 on the season.

New Head Coach Jerry Saffold made it very clear that the last thing he wanted for his team was to get down on themselves as they approached the midway point of their season.

"Any coach's biggest hope is that the players end the season better than they started," Saffold said.

As a new coach, Saffold was looking for ways to make the team successful. His Warren background made him familiar with the school and the volleyball program, but not the girls.

After starting with a concussion, junior Caitlyn Redmon stepped up and showed a big leadership role the entire season. Her hustle and leadership lead the team to victories later in the season.

The first win of the season came at home during the Warrior Invitational. Not only did they get one win, but went on to win three out of the four games. They placed fourth out of nine teams.

The wins came at the right time, giving the team momentum going into one of the biggest home games of the year, Pink the House Night against school rival Ben Davis. The girls came out stronger than normal, but were not able to win. Ben Davis won in three sets to one.

The ladies went on to play their first round of County against Southport High School. The ladies won the match three sets to two.

> Any coach's biggest hope is that the players end the season better than they started.
> -Head coach Jerry Saffold

In the second round of County, the Warriors played Speedway High School. The ladies fought hard but were not able to come out with the win, losing in three sets and ending their time in the County tournament.

The Warriors then traveled to Carmel and Mount Vernon where they were defeated in three sets in both matches.

On senior night, they faced Decatur Central. Four seniors took the court and played a close game against the Hawks beating them by a score of three sets to two. This was the last win of the season for the ladies after they lost their last regular season game to Greenfield Central.

The team opened up Sectional play against Bishop Chatard, but unfortunately the girls came up short. That ended the season for the Warriors.

KILLER SEASON

Girls, boys soccer dominate seasons

It was a season of parallels for the boys and girls soccer teams.

Both the boys and girls coaches worked hard to find the right style and combination of players to lead the teams to success.

The boys lost their first round of County against Brebeuf Jesuit 6-0.

They then moved on to the first round of Sectionals against the Arsenal Tech Titans. The boys defeated the Titans 5-1 and moved on to Sectional finals and beat Bishop Chatard 1-0.

Regionals were held at Mount Vernon, where the boys played the Greenfield Cougars and won 3-1.

Once past Greenfield Central, they took on the Trojans of Center Grove for the regional Championship. The team was looking for the program's first regional title since 1998.

They worked on passing and possession to lead them through the winning season, but came up short with a score of 7-0 to end their season.

The Lady Warriors tough road began when they played Franklin Central on the Flashes' home field. They fought hard for the win and finished with a win of 2-1.

"It definitely was a learning experience, but we pulled together and had an overall exciting season," senior Adeline Runkel said.

They came out with a strong win against Bishop Chatard on senior night. The final score was 4-0. They continued this winning streak by beating high ranked Fishers at home with a score of 1-0.

> "It definitely has been a learning experience but we pulled together and had an overall exciting season."
> -Adeline Runkel

After falling to Brebeuf 5-1 in the first round of the Marion County tournament, the girls moved on to the first round of Sectionals against Franklin Central. They won on their home field after double overtime.

The Lady Warriors then moved to sectional finals against the Beech Grove Hornets.

They won 10-0 to move on to Regionals at Shelbyville against Perry Meridian. A 3-0 win advanced the Warriors to the regional championship against Center Grove.

The Lady Warriors and Lady Trojans were tied at halftime 1-1, but the Trojans scored in the last five minutes ending the game with a score of 2-1 and a loss for the Lady Warriors.

The two losses in Regional finals brought the two soccer seasons to an end.

HISTORIC SEASON

Girls and boys cross country teams have strongest season in years

The MIC Championship was the first big meet for the cross country teams this past season.

Leading the way for the Warriors, junior Damon Horn placed 17th. Senior Matt Egan finished behind Horn in 18th.

The Warriors placed fifth out of 10 teams.

Junior Hope Jones ran the fastest MIC race in the history for the Lady Warriors, achieving an all-conference title for placing seventh. Junior Katlin Wells ran to a 15th place finish along with senior Sarah Hoppes who came in 30th. Overall, the team placed sixth out of 10 teams.

> Warren has a long tradition of good runners, and it's amazing to be a part of that.
> -Damon Horn

A Sectional title was barely out of reach as they paced second to rival Franklin Central.

Horn ran to a first place finish, making him the IHSAA Sectional Champion. Horn was the first sectional champion since De'Sean Turner in 2006. Egan placed third and Justice, again right behind him, came in fourth.

The second place team finish was enough to advance the entire team to the Regional Championship.

"We were obviously disappointed as we wanted to hoist the school's 19th boys cross country Sectional title but just couldn't get it done," Coach Jones said.

Franklin Central's team also was too much for the girls team, beating the Warriors out of a Sectional Championship.

Jones finished in first, making her the IHSAA sectional champion. Wells placed third and Hoppes placed ninth. The girls team advanced also to the Regional Championships.

At Regionals the boys got the redemption they were looking for, even with tough weather conditions. Horn placed third, Lowhorn was right behind him in fourth, Egan placed sixth. Finishing in first place the boys team advanced to the Semi-State Championship for the 18th consecutive year, the longest streak in the school for any sport.

Wells ran to a second place finish and Jones placed behind her in close third. Hoppes placed 12th. Overall, the ladies came in second place, finishing again behind Franklin Central.

Unfortunately, the boys could not advance front runners to State, however the girls team advanced two runners state. Jones and Wells placed 46th and 77th respectively at the State meet. They were the first girls in 23 years to advance to the State meet.

BABY STEPS

Boys tennis improves year by year

The boys tennis team had a season marred by losses and a struggle to find a win in the post season.

The team once again struggled with a rigorous schedule with some real tennis powers on the slate. The always-tough Metropolitan Interscholastic Conference is the home of perennial contender Ben Davis. In addition to conference play, the Warriors also faced off against schools such as Noblesville and Cathedral in non-conference play.

In the MIC tournament, the boys placed seventh out of eight teams, a deviation from the traditional eighth place finish. In the tournament, the boys topped the Lawrence Central Bears to avoid last place.

Despite the disappointing regular season, the boys practiced just as hard to improve and compete as Sectionals began.

"Well, we have been working on strategies on how to win points, and how we can beat our opponents faster. Since tennis is also about endurance, we have been working on our endurance by doing more running drills and staying on our toes," senior Damian Pierson, said.

One bright spot for the team, as far as win-loss record goes, was the team of Brian Kobak and Noah Spindler. The team of Kobak and Spindler were slotted as the second doubles team on varsity and were able to pull off more varsity victories than any other duo or individual.

> We have been able to team up and have chemistry, that's really helped make us successful.
> -Brian Kobak

"We are definitely not the most talented players on the team. We have guys like Riley [Dewing] and Damian [Pierson] who could beat me and Noah one-on-one, but we have been able to team up and have chemistry that's really helped us be successful," Kobak said.

The team finished their season with a loss to Lawrence North in their first round of Sectional play. Senior, Noah Spindler ,along with his doubles partner Kobak, were able to give the team their few victories this season.

RECORD BREAKING SEASON

Girls obtain lowest score since Coach Burton took over

The girls golf team started their season strong and looked to build on their first several matches as the season progressed.

For the first match of the season the ladies faced North Central and Pike High Schools. Coming out strong the Warriors placed second for their first match of the season. North Central shot a 195, Warren 198, and Pike 232. Senior Kierstin Williams shot the low for the team with a 46 through nine holes.

The girls traveled to Ben Davis for their next match. Although a close match of 171-188, the Warriors did take a loss in this match.

"We haven't won as many matches as we'd like to, but our team and individual scores are much better than a year ago," head coach David Burton said.

For their first win of the season, the team defeated Franklin Central at their course by one stroke. Sophomore, Emily Burke shot the lowest for the Warriors with 49.

As a team, the Warriors shot a 394 to finish 12th in the Ben Davis invite. Burke, Williams and senior Leseily Kelle shot in the 90's through 18 holes.

The girls traveled to Southport for their next match, where they lost by five strokes, with Burke shooting the team low of 45 on the day.

> "This year was one of our best seasons. We broke many of our goals that we made at the beginning of the season."
> -Rachel Snyder

Facing Perry Meridian in the same week, the team could not pull out the win, losing 169-201.

The team continued to find their stride in the season, finishing 7th out of 10 in the MIC tournament.

"This year was one of our best seasons. We broke many of our goals that we made at the beginning of the season," senior Rachel Snyder said.

The girls ended their season in the Lawrence Central Sectional, placing sixth out of nine teams.

Q: Do you think you will continue to cheer after high school?
A: I'm not sure if I am going to continue cheer after high school. A part of me does want to and another part of me doesn't want to.

Q: What will you miss the most about cheer?
A: What I will miss most about cheer are the Friday night games and all the girls I cheered with.

Q: What would you say to those who want to try out for cheer but may feel too shy?
A: If you're a girl who wants to try out for the cheer team, go for it! Be sure to have confidence and just try your hardest. They're always excited to see new faces.

Q: Why do you think cheer is a good activity to participate in?
A: Cheer is a good activity to participate in because you have the chance to make new friends. By being on the squad I have learned to be a team player and that it takes a team effort to be successful.

YOUNG LEADERSHIP

Boys and girls teams look for leadership in underclassmen

Last season the swim team was headlined by a superstar member who was a threat to break records every time he jumped into the pool. This year it was the same story, just a different face.

After record-holder Conner Finnigan and numerous other seniors graduating, the slack was picked up by a number of swimmers, mainly sophomore Jackson Sandala.

Sandala was home schooled and so he was not able to compete at Warren his freshman year.

A new ISHAA ruling, however, gave him the chance to compete as a sophomore with his former teammates.

"Jackson was an essential part to the team and was among the best we had," junior Andrew Aughe said. "The rule change couldn't have come at a better time for us."

> Jackson was an essential part to the team and among the best we have.
> - Junior Andrew Augue

In addition to Sandala, other key performers for the boys were juniors Dillon Trumpey, Drew Aughe, Matt Hughes, and Edmundo Amezcua and sophomore Anthony Mendez. On the girls side, sophomores Paige Finnigan and Dessa Rollins, juniors Elizabeth Garza, Lilly Amezuca and Emily Duong led the team as the season progressed.

Leading into their championship season the boys and girls looked stronger than they had ever been. The teams both looked like they would yield huge results and that's what they did.

Finnigan broke the record in the 200 IM at sectionals by three seconds with a time of 2:16.44.

The girls 200 freestyle relay was broken in sectional prelims with a time of 1:48.54. This relay team included Garza, Amezcua, Duong, and Finnigan.

The 400 freestyle relay was also broken in Sectional finals with a time of 3:57.69. This team included Finnigan, Amezcua, Duong, and Rollins.

For the boys, the 200 free relay team placed second, and the 400 relay team placed third, both teams advanced to state. Sandala placed first in both the 200 free and 100 free and advanced to the State meet. Freshman Jared Hilt advanced to Regionals for diving.

Sandala rose to the occasion when put up against the fastest in the state. In the 200 free, he placed 11th with a time of 1:42.54. Sandala failed to qualify in the 100 freestyle. He placed 17th missing consolations by .01.

However, the boys relay team broke the school 400 free relay record set in 1985 with a time of 3:15.52.

MOMENTUM ENDS

Strong beginning ended in defeat

Four times in the last six years. Seems like a lot of appearances in the Marion County tournament semi-finals, but for the boys basketball team, it is not enough.

Three of those times, the team has made it to the final game. Although they hope to be taken seriously, they have yet to win and that is the step that still haunts them.

"When it comes to County, I think people should start familiarizing themselves with Warren Central," head coach Greg Graham said.

> When it comes to county, I think people should start familiarizing themselves with Warren Central.
> -Coach Greg Graham

This years' tournaments ended no differently for the Warriors, but gave them great momentum going ahead. The team lost in the final round 65-51 to the Park Tudor Panthers after the Panther star Trevon Blueitt had a 40 point game.

Before the loss, the Warriors had several impressive wins to get there including a one point victory over Pike and a avenging win over Franklin Central.

Even before the tournament began, the team had a positive run that began over Winter break.

At the North Central Holiday Classic, the boys won their first game 63-60 over Fishers followed by a marginal 57-60 loss to North Central in the final game.

The team started the new year off right with a pair of wins over Mt. Vernon and then Lawrence North, which headed them in the right direction for the county tournament.

Graham felt the momentum they gained over break definitely contributed to the County tournament success.

"It was good for us," Graham said. "Just being there, one of the few teams left. It is a tremendous honor."

While the team found their rhythm in the heart of their season, several players stepped up to take on key roles in making the team come together just right.

However, the team ended their regular season with two heartbreaking losses to Carmel, 52-66 and to MIC rival Pike 55-57. But in between the heartbreak, the team beat Bloomington South on a last second three 53-50.

In Sectionals, the Warriors earned an upset over Cathedral, but fell in the second round to the Roncalli Rebels. The team ended their season with 13 wins and 10 losses.

FACING ADVERSITY

Three coaches in three years proves tough

Three coaches in three years. No, this is not about the football team. In fact, the girls basketball team had to overcome the same coaching challenges and maybe even a little more.

"It is very hard to have three coaches in three years," head coach Michael Windlan said. "Girls have to adjust to certain terminology, philosophies and different offensive and defensive schemes."

Not only did they go through coaches, but they had lost a large chunk of their team and battled multiple injuries that were detrimental to the team.

> "It is very hard to have three coaches in three years. Girls have to adjust to certain philosophies."
> -Coach Michael Windlan

After going down early in the season to an ankle injury, senior Tia King was able to return to the lineup by the end of the season. Senior Jasmine Coe also returned after undergoing a procedure. But as Windland said, the team came first.

"We had several good games from players," Windland said. "But no player is bigger than the team."

With almost double the wins the team had last season, the team looked to be on the right track. During their season, they had big wins over Carmel, Brebeuf and a blowout win over Lawrence Central.

In the Metropolitan Interscholastic Conference, the team got two victories this season, that is one more than last year.

Once again, the team graduated big group of seniors, so rebuilding will have to begin again. However, the team still has a strong base returning for next year.

Another step in the right direction for the team was the team win against Greenfield-Central. After regulation, the game was tied. After one period of overtime, the game was still tied. Right before the second overtime ended, King hit a shot from over half court to win the game. This was her first ever half court shot she made, and it gave her a great feeling.

"It felt like I was in a movie," King said.

The girls final win of the regular season was against Tech, where they won 60-44.

After the two obliterating losses in the first half of the season to Lawrence North, the team was able to rebound in Sectionals.

Although Lawrence North still ended the Warriors season, it was not nearly as bad. The teams were very closely matched throughout the game, but the Wildcats still came out on top, ending the Warriors season.

REPEATED SUCCESS

Two wrestlers win in State tournament

Three consecutive years of winning the MIC Championship and Sectionals sent 13 Warren wrestlers into Regionals fired up and ready to advance. Four wrestlers qualified to compete in the State tournament and two came out on top.

Seniors Deondre Wilson and Katrell Moss dominated the state tournament, and both won the individual State Champion title.

Sectionals on Feb. 1 began at Shelbyville. The Warriors came out on top with first place in their Sectionals and advanced 13 wrestlers to Regionals.

For Regionals the boys traveled to Perry Meridian on Feb. 8 to determine if they would move to Semi-State. Most of the boys wrestled well enough to only lose one wrestler and moving 12 on to State. They had three first place winners including Wilson, Pruitt and Moss.

After Semi-State held at New Castle on Feb. 15 only four wrestlers advanced to individual state. Seniors Deondre Wilson and Katrell Moss, and sophomores Matt McKinney and Trent Pruit moved on from Semi State.

> "It feels great to defend my title and let everyone know that I earned it both years."
> -Senior Deondre Wilson

Sending 13 wrestlers to Regionals and 12 to Semi-State is the highest number of boys that Head Coach Daniel Williams has ever sent. There were a lot of wrestlers still training and helping the qualifiers get ready for State.

Sophomores Matt McKinney and Trent Pruitt lost in the first round of their bracket, but still get the title of a state qualifier. The seniors dominated their first matches on Friday and won Saturday to then advance to the finals that evening.

Wilson was the 120-pound State champion last year, and he went into this match hoping and fighting for the 132-pound title that he earned.

"It feels great to defend my title and let everyone know that I earned it both years," Wilson said.

Moss went into the tournament in hope of winning this year after placing eighth last season. He is now the only athlete in school history to earn a state title in football and wrestling in the same year.

"Winning state in football motivated me to achieve my next goal of winning state in wrestling," Moss said.

New non-traditional calendar

The start of freshman year marked the start of the new, non-traditional calendar for the entire Warren Township. The new calendar was created from both the year-round and traditional calendars to provide nine weeks of school, two weeks of fall, winter and spring breaks, and eight weeks of summer break.

The "ice-apocalypse"

Ice skating in the backyard? Pick up games of ice hockey? Stuck in the house for an entire week? This is how students spent the "ice apocalypse" of 2011. "Even though we had to make up those days, it was really fun staying home from school for almost a week and playing on the ice," senior Alexis Schroeder said.

The death of Osama Bin Laden

On May 1, 2011, President Obama announced that the leader of Al-Qaeda, the most wanted terrorist in the world, had finally been killed. The United States took a breath of relief with this news and broke a Twitter record with 3,400 tweets per second.

Stolen Bus Batteries

On Mon., Nov. 29, 2011, students awoke to the news of a two-hour delay, but no snow in sight. An hour later, receiving the news of school being cancelled, students applauded the unknown criminals of the stolen bus batteries.

Super Bowl XLVI

Indianapolis hosted the 46th Superbowl, gaining more popularity and visitors. With weekly concerts, zip-lines, celebrity sightings, and many other attractions, downtown Indy became the hottest place to be during January of 2012.

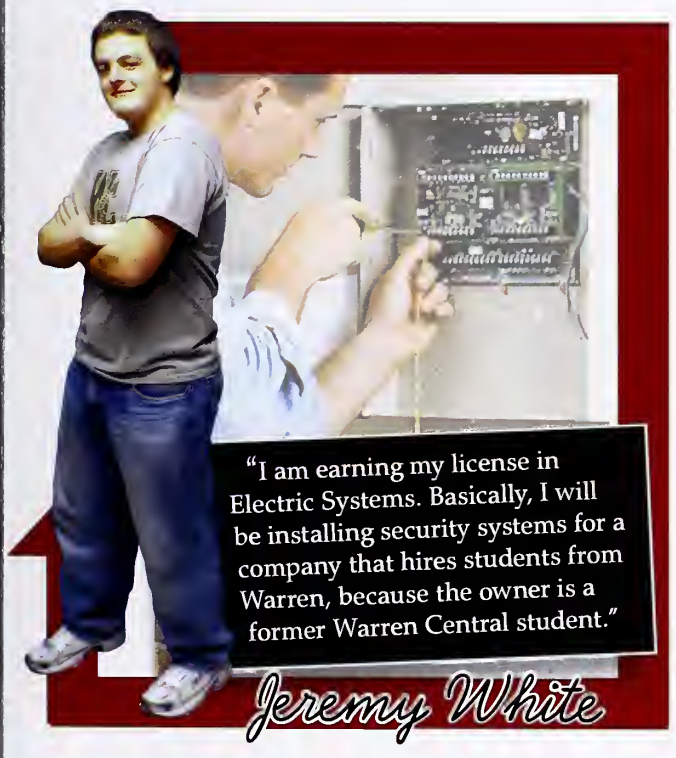
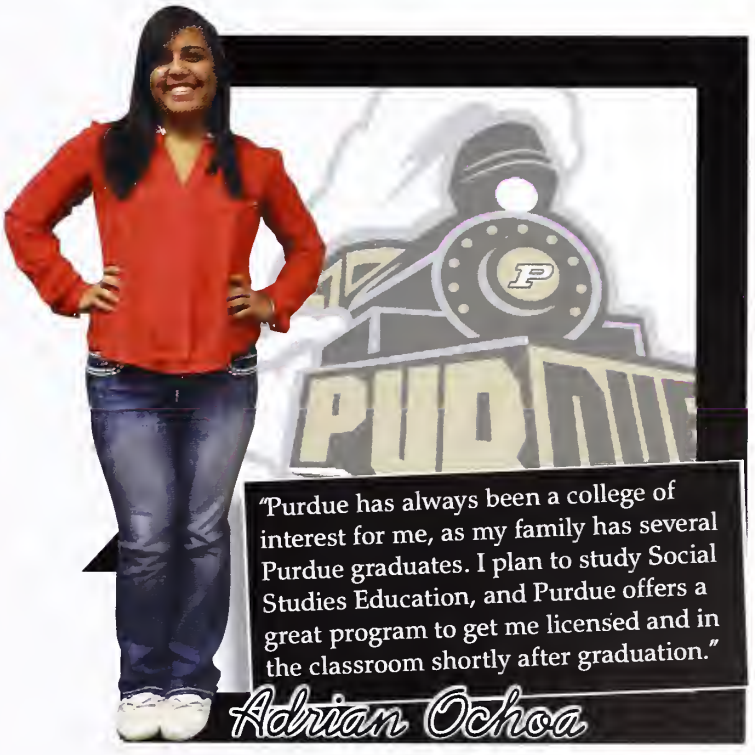
Whether it be college or the workforce, Warriors plan for life after high school.



"I am earning my license in Electric Systems. Basically, I will be installing security systems for a company that hires students from Warren, because the owner is a former Warren Central student."

Jeremy White



"Purdue has always been a college of interest for me, as my family has several Purdue graduates. I plan to study Social Studies Education, and Purdue offers a great program to get me licensed and in the classroom shortly after graduation."

Adrian Ochoa

JUNIOR

"You must be the change you wish to see in the world."
Mahatma Gandhi

1. STUDENTS USE THE new Chromebooks for the very first time in Ms. Allison Baldwin's class. The Chromebooks were used in many classes for a "paperless" curriculum.

getting to know...

Samantha Greiner

"My favorite things to do are play soccer and just get outside as much as possible. I also bake at Two Sister's Bakery.

Some interesting things about me are that I used to play basketball, my hair has been four colors, I'm terrified of eyeball surgery, and I'm left-footed.

In school, I'm involved in National Honor Society, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and WCHS Girl's Soccer. Outside of school I volunteer at Two Sister's Bakery, I participate and am on staff at NECC, and I play soccer.

In 10 years I see myself engaged or married, finishing up college, and on my way into the big world.

Since I've been in high school, my mind set has changed. I used to think I needed a boyfriend to make it through high school. All you really need is a work ethic and good friends and you can make it through high school successfully. My self esteem has also changed dramatically after getting better friends and connecting with the soccer team. I feel strong, beautiful, confident, and smart."

Shelbi Satterfield

"My favorite things to do are sleep, eat, and play softball. I'm a bit of a lazy girl, but I do love softball.

I'm in Student Council and National Honor Society. I'm a nerd, I know. Outside of school, I'm involved in a community help program where we help families get Christmas gifts because they can't afford it themselves.

Some interesting things about me are that I have monkey ears, I burp, A LOT, I put applesauce on my pizza rolls, I drink an unhealthy amount of mountain dew, and I have OCD, in which I have to have things in an even number.

In ten years, I should be graduated from IU with a nursing degree, and working at a children's hospital.

Since I've been in high school, my self confidence has changed the most. I don't care what people think of me as much anymore."

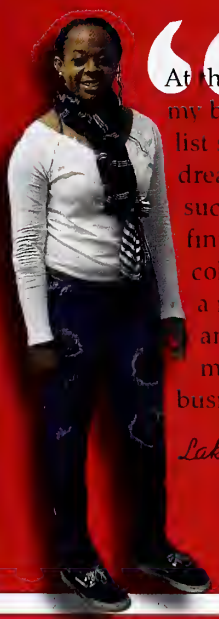
WHAT IS THE TOP ITEM ON YOUR BUCKET LIST?



"At the top of my bucket list sits a dream to be successful, finish college with a masters, and own my own business."

Lakeisha Johnson

"I want to go to Kenya to learn and just be around their people, go on a safari, ride my favorite animal, an elephant, and experience how their culture is different from American culture."

Abbigail Turner

"The top thing on my bucket list would be to go to Paris for a presentation of my fashion line of clothes. That would be my dream come true."

Allison Zwickl

getting to know...

Megan Dyer

"I love to play volleyball and softball for fun. I'm also really into photography, so I just kind of do random photo shoots of my friends. I love to sing, so I do that a lot in my free time. I spend a lot of time with my friends, too.

My brother is in the army, which is kind of interesting. He has been deployed to an island near Saudi Arabia. He sends me things from different places he has traveled to. My brother is one of my best friends.

In school, I am involved in Student Council, National Honors Society, show choir (Hi-Lites), the speech team, and Take A Stand. Outside of school, I am involved in my youth group and girl scouts.

The biggest thing that has changed about me since high school is how much I focus on what other people think of me. As high school continues, I'm starting to shape into the person that I want to be and focusing less on what other people think. I was probably just judged and at laughed at for being in Girl Scouts, but that's something I enjoy, and I could care less of what other people think about it."

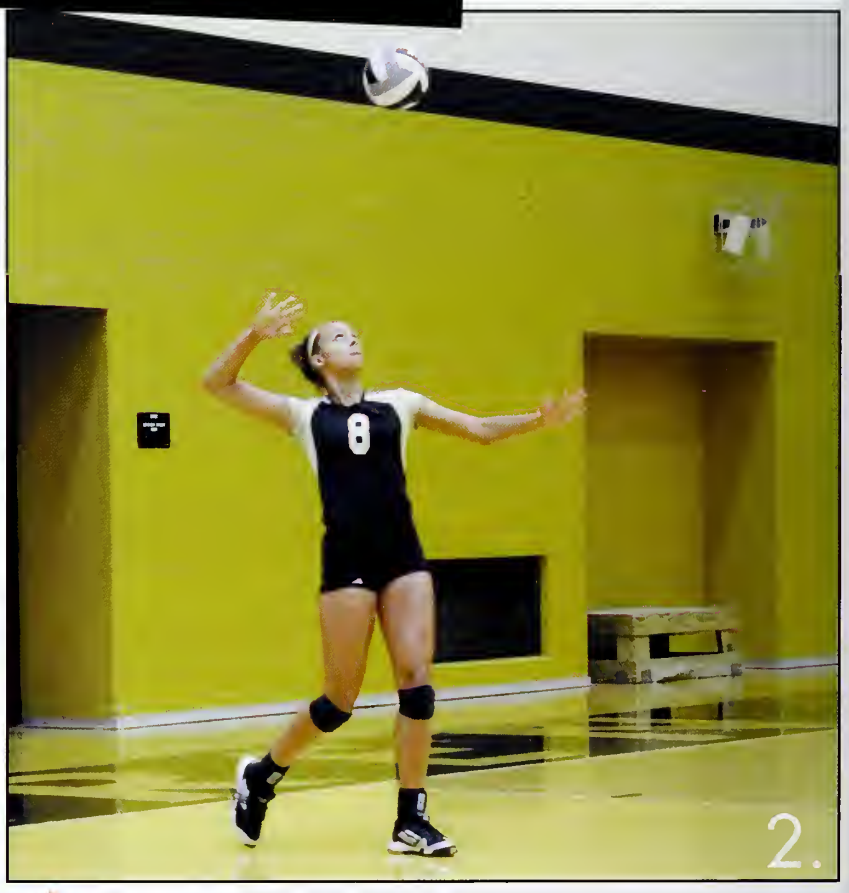
FRESHMEN

"Things do not change, we change."
Henry David Thoreau



1. FRESHMEN TRAJAN PRUITT works on an assignment in Preparing for College and Careers, formerly known as Orientation to Life and Careers. Students worked on various activities to learn about applying for jobs, preparing for interviews and other things to help them outside of high school.

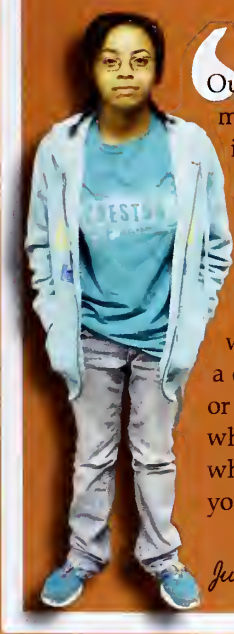
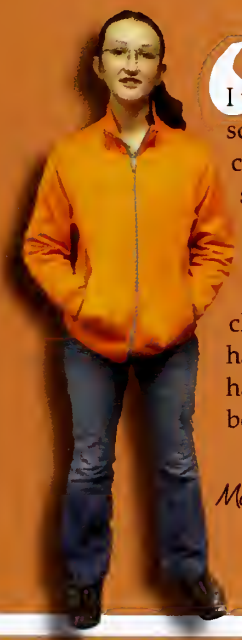
WHAT ARE THE BIGGEST CHANGES BETWEEN MIDDLE SCHOOL AND HIGH SCHOOL?



"Our grades are much more important to keep up in high school. How positive your grades appear depends on whether or not a college accepts or declines you, which then leads to what kind of career you have."

Justice Massey



"I was actually home schooled before I came to Warren, so the biggest change for me has been trying to get around to all of my classes, and how hard some of them have turned out to be!"

Madeleine Brown

"The biggest changes that I have made since being in high school is my work ethic and the time that I put into my school work."

Mitchell Struewing

"My personal hobbies are reading, golfing, and playing the piano.

Some interesting things about me are that I am a Boy Scout , and I am currently preparing to become an Eagle Scout, which is the highest rank in the Boy Scouts. I also love attending my church, Holy Spirit, and I am a server.

In school, I'm involved with orchestra.

Where will I be in ten years? Honestly I'm still undecided on which career path I want to choose, but I know that I want to be out of college with a Master's Degree, working a job I enjoy.

The biggest thing that has changed about myself since I've started high school is that I realize I must work hard to succeed, keep good grades, and stay ahead of my peers in a school the size of Warren. "

FACULTY

"If there is no struggle, there is no progress."
Frederick Douglass

1. MR. DUSTIN PODGORSKI directs Connection Show Choir at their first performance of the year. This performance was a preview of the show choir songs before the competition season began.

2. MS. ELSIE BUTLER helps a student with a client in the Walker Career Center Academy of Cosmetology. Teachers stayed on the floor while students worked to assist in ensuring clients received the best treatment.

3. MR. RICH SHEPLER helps a student find her way to class on the first day of school. Administrators and teachers stayed in the hallway and major areas such as the commons to make sure students were where they needed to be.

Spring Play - Our Town

the COLOPHON

ADVISORS

The amount of hard work that was put into the book is insurmountable and without a great staff, it would be nearly impossible to complete. Cathy Wines was the Herff Jones representative. Mark Haab served as the yearbook advisor and Publication Director. Rich Shepler was the principal. Gabriella Graves served as yearbook editor-in-chief and Samantha Vawter was the assistant editor.

COVER

The simple cover was designed by the editors to showcase their theme redo, renew, REINVENT. The cover is meant to symbolize all the changes that Warren Central underwent with the Race to the Top Grant. The theme was carried through on pages using arrows, which along with drop shadows and colored boxes were our visual theme to tie the book design together.

SELL

The yearbook sold for the same as the previous year which was an "early-bird" price of $50 and a regular price of $60.

PLAN

At 144 all color pages and a yearbook size of 8, the Warren Wigwam continued "smaller is better" in response to the struggling economy in the township. Although the book has gone to a smaller printed size and cut the number of pages the last two years, there is far more content. Coverage of spring sports and other events like graduation and prom that could not be included in the printed version, were placed on HJStitch.com, Herff Jones' special website, and on issuu.com/warrenpublications. Those sites allowed the staff to cover more events than even a bigger book could contain. This 2014 book continued the tradition of spring delivery, which began in 2013. Herff Jones printed 350 copies of the 77th volume of the Wigwam. The book was printed on 100 pound matt paper. All page layouts were created with Adobe InDesign CS5 and Photoshop 5 software and designed by the Wigwam Staff using Macintosh iMacs. Headline and caption fonts were in the Function family. Accent font was Shot. Body copy was set in the Pallidio family 10 point.

PHOTOS

Most photos were taken by staff photographers using a Nikon D100, Nikon D80, and Fuji. Prestige, our official school photographer, provided sports group pictures and some special event coverage. All photos and graphics not originated by the staff meet Fair Use guidelines.
